

Animal Emergency Response in Jackson County

We will be forming our animal response initiative over the course of several classes held throughout 2018. Jackson County Emergency Management wants to make sure that all training and planning is taking place to ensure the proper care of all of Jackson County's members, two legged and four legged. If you are interested in being a vital member in the Animal Response Team that serves Jackson County, PLEASE sign up for this class! This will be the first in a series of classes taught involving animal emergency response (including search and rescue, functioning in the ICS command structure with other first responders and animal housing) and technical animal rescue (concentrating on large animal rescue and how to respond safely and effectively).

Class: Introduction to Animal Emergency Response

Date: March 24th

Time: 8:00am – 4:00pm

Location: Redeemer Church
504 N Walnut St.
Seymour, IN

Please wear comfortable clothing as this class will be 100% indoor but we will be handling live animals.

Lunch will be on your own.
